MARY KAY ASH Founder

In mid-1963, after a lengthy and successful career in direct sales, Mary Kay Ash retired for a month. During that month, she decided to write a book to help women survive in the male-dominated business world. Sitting at her kitchen table, she made two lists: one contained the good things she had seen in companies for which she had worked, and the other featured the things she thought could be improved. When she reviewed the lists, she realized that she had inadvertently created a marketing plan for a successful “dream company.” With her life savings of $5,000 and the help of her 20-year-old son, Richard Rogers, she launched Mary Kay Cosmetics on Friday, September 13, 1963.

Mary Kay’s initial goal remains the Company’s mission: Providing women with an unlimited opportunity for personal and financial success. She adopted the Golden Rule as her guiding philosophy and encouraged employees and members of the independent sales force to prioritize their lives with God first, family second and career third.

Because of her steadfast commitment to her goals and principles and her tremendous determination, dedication and hard work, Mary Kay Inc. has grown from a small direct sales company to one of the world’s largest direct sellers of skin care and color cosmetics. Accordingly, the Company now includes more than 1.6 million Independent Beauty Consultants in more than 30 markets worldwide.

A dynamic speaker, motivator and entrepreneur, Mary Kay was recognized for her achievements through numerous awards and honors, including:

Enriching Women's Lives Through Corporate Philanthropy

Mary Kay's mission is to enrich women's lives, and the Company supports programs dedicated to improving the quality of life of women around the world. Our financial and product donations focus primarily on research for cancers affecting women and the prevention of violence against women.

We believe the long-range interests of employees, our independent sales force and society are best served when the corporation has a responsible role in making the world a better place in which to live and work.

Mary Kay Inc. provided financial support for building a library at the new Safe Campus for The Family Place, a Dallas shelter for women and children who are victims of abuse. Mary Kay employees donated more than 1,000 books and helped stock the library shelves at the new facility. Mary Kay employees also donated and delivered more than 800 Care Kits to The Family Place. Each kit contained personal care items for women and children who often literally flee their homes with little more than the clothes on their backs.

The Mary Kay Ash Charitable Foundation is committed to eliminating cancers affecting women and ending domestic violence. Primary funding interests include cancer research and prevention, as well as domestic violence awareness and family violence shelter operations.

Other examples of Mary Kay's community involvement include:
